

FALLING WALLS LAB

STAGE SETUP

To get a better idea of the presentation environment at the Falling Walls Pitches in Berlin, please have a look at our stage setup. There are four key features present on the Falling Walls Lab stage.

- 1 A large screen allows the entire audience to have a good view of the presentations.
- 2 Presentation preview screen with a preview of the presentation, so that presenters do not have to turn around to the screen and back to the audience during their presentation. The preview screen also displays the remaining time.
- 3 Countdown clock for the audience. The jury and the audience will be aware of the time that each presenter has remaining..
- 4 Sounds will play during the presentation to indicate how much time the presenter has left. Each presenter has 3 minutes to showcase their idea. When 10 seconds are left on the clock, a sound will be played to indicate that the pitch is almost over. Once the 3 minutes have passed, another sound will indicate that the presentation is over.
